Dimitar Stojnev

Current student

I love coding for fun and to learn new things. I also like to challenge my brain with logic and math problems. When I get stuck, I relax by playing basketball.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Education
For now, I'm still learning. I am learning python and github. I have a great desire to learn and develop in the IT field. I understand things quickly, I rarely give up and I like this kind of profession, although I am still green for the whole industry, but with time I believe that I will progress a lot and understand things at a pretty good level.
